Day of Independence, May 19
We celebrate 19 May, the date when Turkish Republic’s independence struggle started, with great enthusiasm and commemorate our great leader, Mustafa Kemal Atatürk with gratitude. We endeavor hard with our young generations to eternally protect our country’s independence.

The History of May 19
Following the Armistice of Mudros, many regions of our country were occupied and the people began resisting strongly. Meanwhile, Mustafa Kemal Pasha was appointed to Samsun to inspect the armies stationed in the region. Mustafa Kemal set off aboard steamer SS Bandırma for Samsun on May 16, 1919. Arriving Samsun on 19 May 1919 as the inspector of the Ninth Army Troops, Mustafa Kemal Pasha began our Struggle of Liberation in Anatolia for an independent Turkish state. This struggle lasted until August 30, 1922 resulted in a great victory.

 Atatürk and May 19
In Mustafa Kemal Atatürk’s opinion, May 19 was the date that the Republic of Turkey gained its independence. Therefore, to the persons asking his birthday, he always replied as 19 May 1919. In 1938, this special day was gifted to our youth to whom Atatürk entrusted our nation and who will keep it alive eternally. In order to always remember our great leader Atatürk and show our gratitude to him, its name was changed to The Commemoration of Atatürk, Youth and Sports Day in 1981.

May 19 Celebrations
19 May, going down in history as the date Mustafa Kemal Atatürk set foot on Samsun, is celebrated every year all across the country with great enthusiasm under the title of The Commemoration of Atatürk, Youth and Sports Day. Our country’s youth organize colorful May 19 events and The Turkish Nation continues walk on our great leader Atatürk’s path to maintain its independence.

Initial Assignment Briefing
34 May at 1000

Come find out what actions/documents are required for your assignment. Members should bring a copy of their Assignment Rip and PPC Instructions, if applicable. 50 seats are available and you must RSVP through your CSS.

Do You Know What Personnel Actions You Can or Cannot Decline?
Enlisted Amn (including First Term Amn) who have retainability for a PCS assignment cannot refuse a PCS action, except if the following applies: (1) Enlisted Amn eligible to request retirement under the 7-day option provisions. (2) When provisions exist to allow an enlisted Amn who has retainability to refuse a specific action. For example: an enlisted Amn requests a voluntary extension of OS tour and has the retainability to serve it, but after approval, the Amn later requested the voluntary DEROS extension to be cancelled.

Do You Know Your Entitlement as a First-Term AMN (FTA)?
FTA with an approved Career Job Reservation (CJR) and approval for reenlistment by their commander may request a one-time extension for any reason (personal convenience) if it is their first extension. Amn must extend for 12-months. Waivers to the number of month will not be considered. Amn who have previously extended for any reason are not eligible to request this extension.

Frequently Asked Questions
"I was selected as a non-volunteer for an assignment and have the retainability requirement, but I don’t want this assignment, what are my options?"
You may request assignment cancellation as an exception to policy. The exception to policy MUST be based on hardship that is greater than that experienced by other Amn or in the best interest of the Air Force. The request will be in a memorandum format and endorsed by your commander. MPF will forward the request to AFPC for final determination. When the request is disapproved, the assignment remains. Additionally, if the request was disapproved under this rule, the Amn cannot request separation or retirement under the 7-day option provisions (unless he/she is still within the 7 days of assignment notification).

"I was deployed during my WAPS testing cycle, how much study time do I get?"
All Amn who deployed at least 90-days in support of a contingency operation are afforded 60-calendar days for WAPS testing preparation time. The 60-day testing preparation time includes any leave, special pass, compensatory time off (CTO), and/or rest and recuperation R&R) taken upon completion of the contingency TDY. Amn must ensure they receive the authorized preparation time. Those who test early waive their right to the full 60-days’ preparation time.

Do You Need to Verify Your Dependents’ Information?
Customers can pull their own DD Form 1172 for assignment requirements as well as to obtain their dependents an ID. Visit the following website: https://www.dmdc.osd.mil/self_service/
Questions can be directed to the MPS Customer Support section at 676-6771, option 1.

Is Your Evaluation not in PRDA?
MPF will update MilPDS and forward the evaluation to AFPC for final review. For enlisted Amn, AFPC will also ensure Force Distributors do not over allocate their authorized promotion recommendations. Upon validation and no errors have been identified, evaluations will be processed into the official record. If your evaluation is not in your PRDA by your promotion cycle’s file freeze date, please contact the MPF via email with the subject line “ELIGIBLE (Specific Promotion Cycle) REPORT vPC EVR#”. The evaluations office will continue to process evaluations and coordinate with the Promotion Board Secretariat and Enlisted Promotions to ensure the evaluation is processed and meets the evaluation board, if eligible.
