DID YOU KNOW?

The Sacrifice Holiday is one of the oldest Islamic holidays in Turkey. It commemorates the story about Prophet Ibrahim (Abraham) who showed obedience to God by agreeing to sacrifice his son. God then sent him a ram to be sacrificed instead.

It is only obligated for those who earn more than a certain amount of money. They purchase a sheep, goat, or a cow to sacrifice in the name of God and then share it with neighbors, relatives and mostly with the poor. Traditionally, on the first day of the Sacrifice Feast in Turkey after a special morning prayer the sacrifice ritual begins. The person who wants to sacrifice the animal gives permission to the butcher so the butcher slaughters the animal on behalf of the owner. The butcher says a prayer before slaughtering the animal. In recent years, instead of sacrificing animals, some Turkish people make donations to charity organizations.

Everyone’s best clothes are worn while they welcome guests to their homes, or visit relatives or friends during the holiday. The Sacrifice Feast comes about 70 days after the Ramadan Feast. According to old traditions it is unlucky to get married or start a new business in the period between these two holidays.

The Sacrifice Feast is an official four-day holiday in Turkey. Administration buildings, schools, banks and post offices are usually closed, markets remain open, but may work on a special holiday schedule. Some people may use the four-day holiday to go on a vacation.
